For each type of guideline, three types of impact in the software maintainability are presented: negative, maintainability decreases (red); none, maintainability remains the same (yellow); and, positive, maintainability increases (green)